"MARK YOUR CALENDAR"
New England Workers Compensation Conference

Dear New Englander:

The annual New England Workers Compensation conference will be held at the Sheraton Islander in Newport, Rhode Island, November 26 through 29, 1989.

This year's conference promises to be both informative and enjoyable. Guest speakers will include directors of competitive state funds as well as insurance rating bureaus and insurance industry personnel. These individuals will discuss the increasing cost of workers compensation, as well as the availability of workers compensation and the increasing use of the residual market. Of course, as always, speakers from our neighboring states will share in developments that are occurring within their respective jurisdictions.

Complete details including registration forms and program agendas will be sent to you in late September. I am looking forward to seeing you in beautiful Newport, Rhode Island at the end of November.

Sincerely

Representative Henry R. Boeniger

MEMORANDUM

To: AFL-CIO State President/Secretary-Treasurer
From: Donna Brazile, National Coordinator DB
Re: HOUSING NOW!

The affordable housing crisis and its most visible symptom-homelessness - is a national disgrace. Millions of low and moderate income people today are living in dilapidated or overcrowded housing; millions have already been consigned to life on the streets or in welfare hotels and barracks-like shelters; millions of others are only a paycheck away from homelessness.

In response to this growing problem, over 65 national organizations issued a "Call to Action" on April 19, 1989 in Washington, D.C. It is our purpose to bring this issue to the forefront of the nation's agenda through a massive public education and organizing campaign. The vehicle for which these efforts are being coordinated is through a newly formed broad-based coalition called "HOUSING NOW!".

HOUSING NOW conveners, which include organized labor, plan to emulate the civil rights march in 1963 which offered a unified voice for a broad-based coalition consisting of both African-Americans oppressed by discrimination and hundreds of other groups sympathetic to their cause. The size and scope of support displayed in a single city on a single day sparked the public's awareness and fueled the pressure for legislative action.

Just as a grassroots concern expressed directly, via a mass demonstration, forged the civil rights legacy of the 1960's, the HOUSING NOW! march on October 7, 1989 hopes to be the watershed event signalling the beginning of the end of homelessness in America by promoting the creation of affordable housing.

On behalf of HOUSING NOW, I write to ask for your support of this historic effort. Our goal is to mobilize a great cross-section of the American people. On May 3rd, the AFL-CIO Executive Committee endorsed HOUSING NOW and has agreed to mobilize it's individual affiliates. Your participation in alerting your local affiliates and central labor bodies will ensure the success of our efforts.

I have enclosed the list of HOUSING NOW local contacts in your state and a brochure. Please feel free to distribute this information. If you have any questions please call me at (202) 347-2405. Thank you in advance for your support.

March for Housing Now

May 3, 1989
Washington, D.C.

Millions of American families, in cities and rural areas alike, are the victims of the nation's critical shortage of decent, affordable housing. For many low- and middle-income families, the price of buying or renting an adequate place to live in a clean, safe neighborhood is beyond their reach.

More than two million Americans, including some 220,000 school-age children, are homeless. Their need for housing continues to go largely unmet as federal programs for construction and renovations of public housing were gutted throughout the 1980s.

To help focus the attention of the nation, the President and Congress on the need for federal programs to help end the housing shortage, the AFL-CIO is joining in a call endorsed by some 50 organizations for a march and rally in the nation's capital.

The march and rally for "Housing Now!" will be held in Washington, D.C., at 12 noon on October 7, 1989.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council calls on all affiliates to join in supporting the march and to urge their members to participate in this demonstration to reaffirm the nation's commitment to decent, affordable housing and an end to the suffering of the homeless.

NATIONAL MARCH FOR HOUSING NOW!

OCTOBER 7, 1989

U.S. CAPITOL

IT IS TIME TO:

- END HOMELESSNESS
- FUND THE CREATION OF AFFORDABLE HOUSING
- RESTORE FUNDS FOR FEDERAL HOUSING PROGRAMS

HOUSING NOW!

425 SECOND STREET, NW,

WASHINGTON, D.C.

20001

202-347-2405

Dear Friend:

The affordable housing crisis and its most visible symptom—homelessness—are a national disgrace. Millions of low and moderate income people today are living in dilapidated or overcrowded housing; millions are forced to pay 50, 60 even 70 percent of their incomes for rent; millions have already been consigned to life on the streets or in welfare hotels and barracks-type shelters; millions of others are only paychecks away from homelessness. It is time for us to stand up and speak out; it is time for us to demand a change; it is time for us to demonstrate that Americans will not tolerate national policies that accommodate homelessness instead of eliminating it.

We are writing to invite you to join us as a sponsor for an historic national march on Washington on October 7, 1989. The purpose of this event is to flood Washington D.C. with hundreds of thousands of peaceful demonstrators from around the country to deliver a simple message to Congress and the Bush Administration: we want an end to homelessness through the creation of affordable HOUSING NOW!

An estimated 3 million Americans are homeless today. The crisis of homelessness continues to grow in every community on our nation—urban, suburban, and rural. Experts say that the number of homeless may increase six-fold in the next 15 years. While many factors have contributed to this crisis, the lack of affordable housing is the most common and universal. During the last eight years, Federal support for housing has been all but eliminated. Since 1981, budget authority for all Federal housing assistance programs has been cut 77 percent—from $32 billion to less than $8 billion per year.

The results have been devastating. Congress knows that homelessness and the inadequacy of affordable housing have reached a critical stage. Yet Congress and the Administration continue funding emergency measures such as the McKinney Act and other inadequate answers.

Poll after poll shows that Americans recognize the crisis of homelessness. A large majority repeatedly tell pollsters that they would be willing to pay higher taxes if the money were used to eliminate homelessness and create affordable housing.

The time has come for all of us to join together to stage a broad based, massive non-violent demonstration in the nation's capital to demand an end to homelessness and a commitment to replenish our stock of affordable housing. Housing funds cut out of the Federal budget must be restored.

On Saturday, October 7, hundreds of thousands of people will gather at various sites around and within Washington and march to the U.S. Capitol. The rally will begin there at noon.

As a prelude to the Washington action, caravans will leave New York City, Roanoke, Virginia, and the Western states in midSeptember, and converge on Washington on Thursday, October 5. The marchers will stay at campsites surrounding Washington, and lobby Congress in the days leading up to the demonstration.

If we are to succeed, this demonstration must reflect the efforts of a truly broad-based coalition of commitment, compassion and concern. It must be inclusive.

As a concerned citizen we urge you and your organization to take on a major and visible role in this critical effort.

We extend this invitation in the name of hundreds of housing and homeless activists from around the country who met and conceived this event in January in Atlanta Georgia.

Please join us in this historic effort to make housing the national priority it has become.

Together we can make a difference.

A CALL TO ACTION

A decent and affordable home is but a distant dream for many of our people. For millions, home is a box, a street corner, or a cot. These are our nation's homeless. They live, suffer, and die in our midst. For millions of others, home is a place that costs too much, is too crowded, or is unsafe. We are far from meeting our national commitment to decent homes for all.

A crisis threatens our nation; it affects every segment of our society.

Since 1981, budget authority for all Federal housing assistance programs has been cut by more than 75%—from $32 billion to less than $8 billion a year. Substandard and expensive housing are the norm for the poor. Millions live doubled-up or worse, while millions more face the loss of their housing from expiring Federal subsidies or property conversions. After 50 years of struggle, only one out of every four eligible poor renters actually receives a Federal housing subsidy.

The response of Congress has been to fund emergency measures that accommodate but do not eliminate homelessness. Laws, such as the McKinney Act, aid the needy but do not address the root cause of a serious national problem: the shortage of affordable housing.

Congress hides behind the budget deficit when it comes to housing our people. We call on Congress to recognize housing as the immediate national priority it must become.

As a compassionate and concerned people, we must bring to government an emphatic message to reverse the housing crisis.

In mid-September, pilgrimages will leave New York City, Roanoke, Virginia, and the West Coast, making their way to Washington, D.C.. There, on Thursday, October 5, marchers will settle in camps around the city.

On Thursday and Friday (October 5-6), they will join with many others to visit Congress and express to elected officials the concerns that have brought them from all around the nation.

Then, on Saturday, October 7, we will come together at the U.S. Capitol in Washington, D.C., to raise one voice with one message for the restoration of housing funds to the Federal budget: END THE THREAT AND THE TERRIBLE REALITY OF HOMELESSNESS NOW THROUGH THE CREATION OF SAFE, DECENT, AFFORDABLE HOMES FOR ALL OUR PEOPLE.

THUS, we now issue this CALL to all people of conscience and compassion in the nation to join in these days of action. We ask your support for these goals and for the entire calendar of events and plans described here, the totality of this message. We recognize that everyone who supports these goals will not be able to participate in every activity. We especially acknowledge the religious obligations of our Jewish sisters and brothers who will be observing the Sabbath and the holiest days of the year at this time.

We ask each person accepting this call to do as much as possible to fulfill these goals, to help bring this message to Washington. Open your doors, support the marchers, lobby your officials. We invite you—WE URGE YOU—to be part of this massive and peaceful effort and the gathering that will unite the many diverse groups who see and experience this crisis of homelessness and housing, a gathering to fulfill our national housing goals and eliminate homelessness. HOUSING NOW!

Come to Washington, D.C.. Together, we can make a difference.

Boston, Massachusetts 02108

Dear Mr. Osborn:

Have you heard the news? Our Area Representative, Mike Grieco, will be leaving New England in September to accept a C.W.A. appointment in Fort Lauderdale, Florida! I'm sure you will agree that Mike's many years of dedicated and untiring service to his friends in the Merrimack Valley and New Hampshire - personally, professionally and politically - should not go unnoticed.

He has served the membership of Local 1365 C.W.A. as a Steward, Executive Board Member, Vice President and President, as well as our Area Representative. We find it only fitting, therefore, to extend our thanks and honor Mike in the nicest way possible.

A surprise testimonial will be held in his honor on Friday evening, August 25, 1989, at "Pat's Beef House," 12 Alpha Street, Haverhill, Mass. Cocktails will be served at 7:00 P.M., followed by a family-style roast beef dinner at 8:00 P.M., a few guest speakers (who will probably "roast" him!) and dancing to the music of "The Jack Alessi Band" and a Disc Jockey until 1:00 A.M. Tickets are $40.00 each. Tables of 10 ($400.00) will be reserved at your request.

I hope that your schedule will allow you to join us in bidding Mike a fond farewell and wishing him continued success in his new job. Your reply is requested by August 11th. If we can be of any assistance to you in arranging transportation or room accommodations, please do not hesitate to contact this office.

Looking forward to your reply and seeing you on August 25th, I am

Yours sincerely,
